2015 Stephen Mosling Commitment to Education Award Shea Electric & Communications LLC

Shea Electric & Communications, LLC

specializes in full-service electrical contracting work throughout the seven counties they currently serve. Their business has been carefully built based on Faith, Character & Knowledge. Shea Electric truly prides themselves on the fact they are a "people development company".

Dan Shea, Co-Founder of Shea Electric & Communications, has been an electrician for close to 30 years. He started an apprenticeship right out of high school and fell in love with his work. He and his wife Patty, started Shea Electric & Communications in 2006 and through hard work and dedication they feel very blessed to have a great team which strives for excellence in everything they do.

They believe that education is the key to a strong community and to building the leaders of the future. Patty, Dan and Shea Electric employees have been strong supporters of the Communities Program of Oshkosh North High School. The program has a unique way of incorporating the educational goals with hands on community based learning which is truly what is needed in our school systems. Students are taught 21st Century skills, critical thinking as well as given an opportunity to explore their career paths.

Shea Electric was very excited and proud to be part of the Youth Co-op program where they allowed a student to become part of their team and experience what they do. This experience gave the student the opportunity to see the electrical field more in depth and to teach him more about careers in the trades. That student is now participating in their State of Wisconsin adult electrical apprenticeship program.

Shea Electric & Communications plans to continue working with the school system to educate area youth about opportunities in the trades. They will continue to actively participate in career fairs, talk to students in the industrial arts programs and provide co-op opportunities to students looking to explore their options.

Dan and Patty Shea and everyone at Shea Electric & Communications, LLC are advocates for education and helping young adults push their limits, explore their options and achieve their goals. The Oshkosh Chamber of Commerce is proud to honor them with the 2015 Stephen Mosling Commitment to Education Award.
